Olivier Duhamel

New Zealand sculptor Olivier Duhamel has established his art practice on Waiheke in 2004. His distinctive laminated sculptures in wood, in acrylic and in bronze are held in many private and public collections and exhibited around the world but Olivier remains loyal to his Waiheke roots where he is a long term member of the [s p a c e] art collective. This majestic female torso is suitable for a hotel lobby, entrance
hall or a large room.

It is not suitable for outdoor display.

Realisation: The piece has been sculpted digitally from the pose of a life model. The 3D model has then been sliced into a contour map. The outline of each contour was then used to cut the 120 parts out of 12mm thick panels of MDF. The parts have been manually assembled into 10 interlocking blocks of about 10 slices each.

Assembly/installation: The sculpture is made of 10 easily assembled separate blocks allowing for easy transport, shipping and installation by a single person. An installation video tutorial is available on www.olivieroduhamel.com

Base: The sculpture has been set on a disk of 80cm diameter, mounted on bearings allowing the sculpture to spin on itself. This disk can then be set on top of a plinth of any dimensions to suit any requirement.
